

Josey & Jorge

Tied the knot overlooking an endless expanse of the New Mexico woodland...

Nestled snugly between scenic, rocky cliffs and lush forest, Josey and Jorge's vibrant wedding celebration lasted for an entire weekend. With their dearest friends and family, and the charming Blame Her Ranch's countless amenities at their disposal, the bride and groom's special day was honoured beneath the clear New Mexico sky. "The entire day was incredibly special, and we loved every moment of it," the bride gushes. "The venue is really flexible, and lets you have everything exactly how you want it."

Blooming sunflowers and classy red roses stood out against the rural backdrop of the ranch's location - the stunning array of colour bringing a mix of stylish and playful personality to the forefront of the day. The bride stunned in her dream dress from Darlene's Bridal Elegance in Albuquerque - an amusing story behind
